Important information

Berths in double cabins cannot be booked by passengers travelling alone. Children must be at least 7 years old and sleep in a separate berth. There are no child discounts.

The cabins are fitted with bunk beds (except on the main deck of M/S Diana and a few other exceptions) and are about the same size as a small sleeping compartment on a train. As the berths vary in length, we ask that you tell us ahead of time if you are above average height (approx. 175 cm). The cabins are fitted with a washbasin with hot and cold water. There are showers on all decks, except for shelter deck on M/S Diana, and toilets on all.

The shelter deck contains the dining room and the lounge. On bridge deck there are comfortable chairs for relaxing and also a bar. The ship has a small onboard souvenir shop and a small ship's library. There is neither radio nor TV on board.

The tour guide holds daily information meetings in three languages (Swedish, English and German) to let you know what is going to happen during the day, tell you about the history of the canal and the local sites, as well as provide practical information. The tour guide is available throughout the cruise and even leads some of the shore trips.

Daytime wear should be comfortable, since much of the time is spent outdoors. Bring something warm, a windproof jacket and walking shoes, in addition to your summer clothing. Tradition has it that the guests change to something a bit more elegant for dinner, but going so far as a dark suit is not essential – smart casual is quite sufficient.

Our ships are charming, but old, which means that thresholds are high and stairways steep. In addition, most shore excursions are on foot. For this reason, if you are physically disadvantaged, you should indicate this when booking and bring along a personal companion.

The menu at lunch and dinner is fixed. Special requirements concerning food must therefore be notified in advance.

For safety reasons, and for the comfort of other guests, smoking is only permitted outdoors at the places so marked.

Arrival times are approximate, as weather and traffic conditions can cause some delays. For that reason you should arrange to have a good time margin for continued travel on the day of arrival. The shipping company can not be held responsible for any additional costs in conjunction with delays that are beyond the company's control.

There is no long-term parking near the quays in Gothenburg and Stockholm.

Hotel accommodation: We can recommend centrally located first-class hotels in Gothenburg, Stockholm, Motala and Söderköping.

Booking Conditions

This price list is valid for reservations from countries, which are not part of the Euro zone (Great Britain, Switzerland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, etc.) as well as all non-European countries.

The shipping company reserves the right to cancel trips, as well as to make changes in excursions or schedule. The shipping company offers no reimbursement in cases of force majeure, that is situations beyond the company's control including weather conditions, strikes or lockouts and technical problems at bridges, locks and ports, but not limited to these. In such events passengers are advised to contact their own travel and/or home insurance agents.

Reservation and payment: A deposit amounting to 20 % of the total trip cost must be paid within 14 days of booking. Full payment of the remaining amount is due no later than 40 days prior to departure day. Should booking occur later than 40 days prior to departure, the entire amount shall be paid immediately. Special conditions apply to group reservations (10 persons or more).

Organiser: Rederi AB Göta Kanal, tel +46 (0)31 80 63 15, fax +46 (0)31 15 83 11, e-mail bookings@gotacanal.se Change fee: Changes in the booked trip leading to another departure date, point of departure, trip length or price will be seen as a cancellation and rebooking. In such cases a fee will be debited in accord with the cancellation rules below.

Cancellations: The following conditions are in effect for cancellations:

- For cancellations received more than 40 days prior to departure date, an administrative fee of SEK 500 per person will be deducted from refund.
- For cancellations received between 40 and 20 days prior to departure date, 50 % of the ticket price plus an administrative fee of SEK 500 per person will be deducted from refund.
- For cancellations received later than 20 days prior to the date of departure, or for passengers who do not arrive at the ship prior to its departure, no refund is made.
- Special conditions apply to group reservations.

Cancellation insurance: Passengers are advised to take out our cancellation insurance, which costs SEK 300 per person. The insurance must be ordered at the same time as the trip and covers the passenger or close family member in the event of acute illness, accident or death. The ticket must be cancelled before departure in order for the cancellation insurance to apply and a certificate from a doctor must be supplied. With the exception of a SEK 500 per person service charge (deducted at the time of cancellation), the price of the ticket will be refunded. The cost for the cancellation insurance is non-refundable. Please note that the cancellation insurance may only be purchased by individuals.
